MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT: Community Planning Guidance

1. Herewith the second draft of the Planning Guidance paper, with Huizenga and Steininger ground in, as you requested. I believe their contributions have sharpened the paper, making it more persuasive and authoritative than the original draft.

2. You will note that in the front of the book there is an executive summary. It is this to which I had reference when I called you the other day on Al Hall's request for some indication of the thrust of your guidance, in view of the fact he is beginning to draft his own fiscal and related guidance, which would normally be issued sixty days or so after the new year. I would suggest to you that we could pass him a copy of this summary, stressing that it is not the final draft and enjoining him to use it only within his own immediate staff. May I have your view.

3. As for the basic paper, which is red lined as in the first version, if you approve it today, we will have it printed while you are away and thus issued immediately on your return. If not, we should be able to print it and distribute within a week after you get back.
